

Alex Bratty, MBA

Founder of Happiness @ Work

With over 20 years of business and research experience, Alex has navigated various work environments, leadership styles, and company cultures. From management at a Fortune 100 company to partner in a multi-million dollar firm, to building a multi-six figure coaching and consulting business, Alex has had the opportunity to observe and experience first-hand what it takes to increase employee engagement, productivity, and performance. Alex works with corporations and associations, showing them how to leverage the competitive advantage of a positive work culture which leads to a healthier and happier bottom line.
